Box No. V Reasoned statement under Rule 43bis.1(a)(i) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-23	YES
revery (iv)	Claims		I ES
•	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	3-11, 14-23	YES
	Claims	1-2, 12-13	NO

2. Citations and explanations:

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US 2001-0016301 A1 (JATHAN D. EDWARDS) 23 August 2001

D2: JP 2002-245687 A (RICOH CO., LTD.) 30 August 2002

1. Novelty and Inventive Step

The subject matter of claims 1-23 of the present invention is a recorded master for manufacturing an information storage medium and a method of manufacturing the master, which includes a master substrate, a heat absorption layer, a separation layer, and a dielectric layer.

D1 discloses a method of manufacturing a metal matrix suitable for use in the manufacture of optical discs in which a master plate is used which comprises a recording double layer of a synthetic resin in which each layer comprises a laser light-absorbing dye.

D2 discloses the manufacturing method for the original optical disk master plate comprising a process of forming a hydrophilic high polymer material layer which is not mixed with photoresist on a glass substrate.

The subject matter of claims 1, 2, 12 and 13 and that of the prior art document D1 are considered to be similar in that both relate to a recorded master for manufacturing an information storage medium. Said claims differ from said document in that said claims include a separation layer formed of a photoresist. However, said difference is clearly shown in D2. Accordingly, it would be obvious to a person skilled in the art to derive the invention of claims 1, 2, 12 and 13 from the prior art D1 and D2.

Therefore, the subject matter of claims 1, 2, 12 and 13 is considered to be novel but to lack an inventive step (PCT Article 33(2)-33(3)).

2. Industrial Applicability

Claims 1-23 of the present invention meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4) because they are directed to a recorded master for manufacturing an information storage medium and a method of manufacturing the master. Therefore, the subject matter of claims 1-23 is considered to be industrially applicable.
